AQUA DE MAGNOLIA.—The prettiest thing, the "sweetest thing," and the most of it for the least money. It over comes the odor of perspiration; softens and adds delicacy to the skin; is a delightful perfume; allays headache and inflammation, and is a necessary companion in the sick-room, in the nursery, and upon the toilet sideboard. It can be obtained everywhere at one dollar per bottle.

S. T.—1860.—X.—The amount of Plantation Bitters sold in one year is something startling. They would fill Broadway six feet high from the Park to 8th street.—Drake's manufactory is one of the institutions of N. York. It is said that Drake painted all the rocks in the eastern States with his cabalistic "S.T.—1860.—X," and then got the old granny legislators to pass a law "preventing disfiguring the face of nature," which gives him a monopoly We do not know how this is, but we do know the Plantation Bitters sell as no other article ever did. They are used by all classes of the community, and are death on Dyspepsia—certain. They are very invigorating when languid and weak, and a great appetizer.

"In lifting the kettle from the fire I scalded myself very severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The torture was unbearable. * * * The Mexican Mustang Liniment relieved the pain almost immediately. It heals rapidly, and left very little scar.

CHAS. FOSTER, 429 Broad st., Philada."

This is merely a sample of what the Mustang Liniment will do. It is invaluable in all cases of wounds, swellings, sprains, cuts, bruises, spavins, etc., either upon man or beast.

Beware of counterfeits. None is genuine unless wrapped in fine steel plate engravings, bearing the signature of G. W. Westbrook, Chemist, and the private stamp of DEMAS BARNES & Co., New York.

All who value a beautiful head of hair, and its preservation from premature baldness and turning gray, will not fail to use Lyon's celebrated Kathairon. It makes the hair rich, soft and glossy, eradicates dandruff, and causes the hair to grow with luxuriant beauty. It is sold everywhere. E. THOMAS LYON, Chemist, N. Y.

WHAT DID IT?—A young lady, returning to her country home after a sojourn of a few months in New York, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a rustic, sun-burned face, she had a soft, ruby complexion, of almost marble smoothness; and instead of 22, she really appeared but 17. She told them plainly she used Hagan's Magnolia Balm, and would not be without it. Any lady can improve her personal appearance very much by using this article. It can be ordered of any druggist for only 50 cents.

Heimstreet's inimitable Hair Coloring has been steadily growing in favor for over twenty years. It acts upon the absorbents at the roots of the hair, and changes it to its original color by degrees. All instantaneous dyes deaden and injure the hair. Heimstreet's is not a dye, but is certain in its results, promotes its growth, and is a beautiful Hair Dressing. Price 50 cents and $1,00. Sold by all dealers.

Saratoga Spring Water, sold by all Druggists.

LYON'S EXTRACT OF PURE JAMAICA GINGER—for Indigestion, Nausea, Heartburn, Sick Headache, Cholera Morbus, &c., where a warming, genial stimulant is required. Its careful preparation and entire purity make it a cheap and reliable article for culinary purposes. Sold everywhere at 50 cents per bottle.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Wednesday morning, Feb. 13, 1867.

"I know of no mode in which a loyal citizen may so well demonstrate his devotion to his country as by sustaining the Flag the Constitution and the Union, under all circumstances, and UNDER EVERY ADMINISTRATION REGARDLESS OF PARTY POLITICS, AGAINST ALL ASSAILANTS, AT HOME AND ABROAD."—STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS.

A NEW plan of reconstruction has been agreed upon by the President and a number of Governors of Southern States. As it is not likely to be popular either North or South it will, like all other "policies" offered, fall through.

IN the U. S. House of Representatives on Friday the Reconstruction Committee's bill to provide a military government for the Southern States, was defeated by a refusal to sustain a call for the previous question by a vote of 98 to 61—some thirty odd Republicans voting with the Democrats solid. The vote created great astonishment in the House.

THE election in the city of Reading Friday last resulted in the election of the entire "Democratic" ticket from Mayor down to Constable. This is a change from former contests, and is what may be looked for in other places if the Republicans continue to agree to disagree upon the reconstruction of the country. The masses of the Republican or Union party are getting tired waiting for what was promised them by the leaders of the party.

THE New York TIMES says :—"The Radical members of the Judiciary Committee who are making the preliminary examination of the impeachment charges are still at work and have examined several witnesser, including Gen. Butler, Gen. Banks, Judge Henstand, of Louisiana, and others who are members of the Southern Republican Association of this city. These facts cannot be disputed, although it can be said with truth that the Committee have as yet done nothing in the premises, and even that no subpœnas have been issued for witnesses. In this informal investigation it is proposed to obtain the pith of the evidence to substantiate the charge of high crimes and misdemeanors against the President, and it will then be submitted to a regular caucus of, the Republican members, and if it is decided to be sufficiently strong to sustain the charges and warrant it, the formal investigation before the whole Committee will be authorized, and the regular subpœnas for witnesses will be issued. This is the programme now resolved upon by the members of both Houses who favor the impeachment movement.

Kansas will need by the 1st of April 5,000 men, laborers and mechanics. During the past year we have erected over 600 buildings, for which we have had to pay large prices, because of the high price of labor. Bricklayers six and seven dollars per day, and other trades in proportion. This city will next season build three times as much as it did last; we are building a railroad bridge across the Missouri, which will cost over half a million of dollars; we shall also build the largest depot in the West. The Fort Scott railroad will need both laborers and mechanics. Unless at least 5,000 more laborers and mechanics come here by spring the work will have to be delayed, and private enterprise must suffer. We have at this time over one hundred houses which had to be stopped last fall for want of mechanics. Buildings would have been started last fall, but on account of the lack of mechanics were not begun.

EDITORIAL LIFE.—But few readers ever think of the labors and care devolving upon an editor. Capt. Marryatt most truly says: I know how a periodical will wear down one's existence. In itself it appears nothing; the labor is not manifest; nor is it in labor; it is the continual attention it requires. Your life becomes, as it were, the publication. One day's paper is no sooner corrected and printed than on comes another. It is the stone Sisyphus, and endless repetition of toil and constant weight upon the intellect and spirits, and demanding all the exertions of your faculties; at the same time you are compelled to the severest drudgery. To write for a paper is very well, but to edit one is to condemn yourself to slavery.

☞The costliest watch that was ever made is said to have been one which was constructed in 1844 for the Sultan Abdael Medjie, who must have found it rather inconvenient, since it was five inches in diameter, and struck the hours and quarters on wires, with a sound resembling that of a powerful cathedral clock. It cost 1,200 guineas. Another famous watch was noted for its smallness. It was inserted in the top of a pencil case, and though it was but three sixteenths of an inch in diameter, its dial not only indicated the hours, minutes and seconds, but also the days of the month. It was made in Geneva.

A number of seamstresses in Paris have been suffering from violent colic, attributed to putting the sewing silks they use in their mouths. The silk, being sold by weight, is adulterated with sulphate of lead to make it heavier, hence its deleterious effect.

Andrew Johnson Stereoscopically Viewed.

Sir :— Andrew Johnson was no stranger to the politicians who nominated him. His face was long familiar in the National Assembly. His abilities, his politics, his habits, were fully understood by those who placed him before the people for the exalted position he now holds. And if he has disappointed us they are responsible. We well remember how heartily we cast our ballot for—as they taught us to believe—Honest Andy. We confess to great disappointment. We would not think of voting for him again, even for Mayor. He has good points of character, but is not calculated to give dignity to the position nor harmony to the popular elements. It should be to those election managers a wholesome lesson for the future. In the meantime, we should be as amiable as possible over our folly, and show our wisdom by making the best of it.

We propose to view our subject impartially—not with the contracted eyes of a partisan, but with the even scales of a liberal judgment. We would open an account with him, debtor and creditor, and strike the balance according to the strict rule of justice. No easy task this, we confess. Prejudice has been the blind halter to truth throughout all history. We remember how it bent the stubborn knees of old Copernicus, and forced him to recant a grave conviction; how it reviled Harvey, imprisoned Stevens, burnt heretics at the stake, and hung men and women in Boston for wearing drab and funnel bonnets. It is still rampant, barring truth, shutting out the light, dragging back the car of progress, and blowing the dying embers of an expiring sectionalism, which has too long distracted our country. We would rather err in liberality than pander to such a spirit.

We have watched the progress of this quarrel between the President and his old friends with much care, and have arrived at this conclusion: In the beginning he meant well. He has been irritated into the present obstinacy by determined enemies in the camp; and his unguarded tongue is the rope with which they have executed him politically. Early, Sumner scanned the situation. Sumner is Phillips reflected with increased focus from the Senatorial telescope. He saw that Andrew Johnson was to be a barrier of the indiscriminate suffrage, and forthwith proceeded to pour out his vials of wrath upon him. In the face of astonished Senators he declared the President "A whitewasher of secession," and was sorely rebuked by them. It was a trick of the wily Abolitionist to head off old Tennessee, and was successful, no doubt, beyond the most sanguine calculation. The President waxed hot with wrath, and popped his head into the noose most obediently. This was on the 22d of February, 1865. In the presence of a large assemblage he, in passion, kicked the beam of political respectability, his last words being "dead duck"

His unguarded tongue has done more to destroy his popularity than all the Congressional pack together. It has out Stevened Stevens, and made opponents by the score. That unfortunate speech, in which he stooped from his august position to bandy epithets with his opponents, and his unpremeditated extempores in his memorable pilgrimage to the grave of Douglas, did more to neutralize his statesmanship than all his enemies could have done in years of wordy battle. In conferring D. D. on Forney he lost his title to respect from those who elevated him to power. Let all future Presidents adopt silence for their motto if they would enjoy an easy couch.

As to the sentiment of this first pugilistic setto, we are rather with Johnson, with his qualified suffrage, than with Sumner. We would like to see universal suffrage when we are ready for it. We hope to live to enjoy this glorious culmination of political reform; but we know ignorance is a tyrant, most unjust to its own votaries, and the very bane of the ballot. This was fully proven in the late struggle. For thirty years past it has given us worthless paper for currency instead of a confiding national gold representative. Prudence tells us to take warning from the past, and beware how we throw our "pearls before swine."

The President has clearly disappointed his friends; but, to "give the Devil his due," he has, in the past, deserved well of his country in its most trying hour. We remember him as Senator, when treason raised its slimy crest in the Senate. How he faced the music, and smote with keen rebuke the arch-traitors of his own sunny South. How, at the close of that exciting contest, he journeyed throughout the North, arousing the lethargic populace to their danger. How, when the Border States hung trembling in the scale, he flew to the post of danger, and for four trying years beat back the maddened furies of secession. The judgment of all loyal men up to this time was that, next to Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Johnson was most deserving of honor at their hands.

"How has the mighty fallen!"—Strange metamorphosis. He is to-day the most unpopular man in public; and defiant majorities ride rough shod over his vetoes, as a sort of Congressional recreation. Had he cultivated an amiable deportment, he might have retained much of his popularity, and rendered harmless the thrusts of his designing enemies.

Doubtless the President is egotistic, dogmatic, stubborn, impetuous, unguarded; but we cannot believe him a traitor, or in improper sympathy with the enemies of his country. Honestly, we think he has proved his patriotism above suspicion; and credit should be given him in making up our balance-sheet.

Would we impeach? No. "Why waste our ammunition on a dead duck?" We would not exchange our frying-pan for the fire. Were we Andrew Johnson, we would pray without ceasing for impeachment. It would be his opportunity. We can conceive how eminent and able council could add a new page to the volume of our national eloquence in the defense of such a case, the world holding breathless attention to every utterance. Acquittal would in all probability follow; and the great Union party—that hope of progress—would stagger under the effects of its own folly. Its power for good would be perilled, and the defunct corpse of Democracy—that arch-enemy of progress—might start afresh from the grave to which a tried patriotism has consigned it.

Phillips, Sumner, and Beecher are all, doubtless, well meaning men. They have their hobbies, and black ones they are; and they choose to ride them, without chart, lantern, or compass, into the unsurveyed future, reckless of consequences. Shall we mount behind and do likewise? This is not the platform of our party. We prefer listening to the admonition of experience, and to exercise, at least, a little of the caution vouchsafed to us by nature.

We can recognize a flaw in our own web. We think it the height of bigotry to assent to every edict of our party. What party, either in State or Church, was ever perfect, and void of prejudice? Majorities run into tyranny as freely as water runs down hill. We should be ever awake to the tendencies of human nature.

The President may have too much charity for Rebels. His opponents may err on the other extreme. We would choose a middle ground, on which both reconstruction and reconciliation could be consummated. To secure the one without the other, would be like a foolish attempt to rear a house of stone without the necessary cement with which to render it enduring.

We would not justify the President in his perverseness, but we dare to credit him for the good deeds of the past—for the faithful spirit with which he strove to save the Union from the whirlpool of secession. One thing is deserving of consideration. Traitor or not, he has the confidence of the best men of Abraham Lincoln's Cabinet. Do these also partake of the treasonable sentiment said to be resident in his heart? The great Premier, world-famed for ability and patriotism, and whose devotion to liberty has never been questioned—the honest Secretaries, who on the land and the sea carried our starry emblem triumphantly to the end. Such are his advisors. May it not, after all, be but a misunderstanding that has thus divided old friends. We would rather come together in the spirit of reconciliation and reason, that the services of these great and good men may be preserved—that our victorious march may be combined, and new victories of peace be achieved. We have a great work before us, which may be perilled if we weaken our energies by fratricidal contention. Radicals will say no; but if we tie our destinies to their skirts, God only knows where we may bring up.

A REPUBLICAN.

A Terrible Hand-to-Hand Fight.

The Fort Reno correspondent of the Louisville Journal says:

Herewith I give you additional and accurate information of the terrible calamity that befel the 18th United States Infantry on the 21st day of December, 1866, at or near Fort Phil. Kearney, in Dakotah Territory. On that ill-fated day the Indians made an attack on the wood train of the aforesaid post. Colonel H. B. Carrington, the commandant, sent out reinforcements to assist the guard of the wood train. The Indians numbered fifty, the reinforcing party numbered eighty one men, including officers and citizens. As soon as the Indians perceived that we were in close quarters, they began to retreat. Our men followed them.

The Indians entered a ravine, our men still following. The Indians had two thousand warriors concealed in the ravine. The troops were permitted to enter the narrow defile until they were carefully and hopelessly surrounded. Then commenced one of the most terrible hand-to-hand fights ever recorded in the history of Indian warfare. Our eighty one men repulsed two thousand Indians in three successive charges; but the fourth charge was too much for them. Owing to the overwhelming numbers and disadvantageous ground, our men could sustain themselves no longer. They were killed and scalped to the man. Not one was left to tell the tale of blood.

The post was too weak to send assistance to those poor men. They were horribly mutilated. There was but one eye witness to this fight, Dr. Hines, he being at a distance from those engaged. He states that our men fought desperately. The Indians kept a hundred men busy carrying off their dead and wounded. It is a supposition that the loss of the Indians amounted to four hundred killed and wounded. This fact, however, is not easily ascertained, as they carry off their dead and wounded on purpose to keep them from being seen or the number known.

ESCAPE FROM THE INDIANS.—A SAD CASE:—The Topeka Tribune says there is at the Gordon House, in that city, a young lady who has been the victim of some bitter and brutal experience from the hands of our brethren, "the noble red men of the forest." Her name is Sarah Jane Luster, and her home is in Wise county, Texas. Some time in the month of September last the neighborhood in which she resided was visited by a band of Camanche Indians, who captured her, together with the lady whom she lived, and two children. The latter lady was murdered at her house because she would not cease crying for aid. Miss Luster and the two children were taken away by their captors. Miss L. was divested of all her clothing and was furnished only with a waist of an old dress a dirty blanket for her wearing apparel and bedding. Making her escape from the Camanches, Miss Luster was taken by the Kiowas, with whom she remained about six weeks, when in the latter part of October, during a cold and stormy night, she escaped from her second captors, taking with her a pony. She was without food alone three days, when she fortunately struck the Santa Fe road, about ninety miles west of Council Grove, and where a Santa Fe train was camped. The teamsters kindly administered to her wants, and sent her on to Council Grove, where she arrived in November last.

The Prussian war cost $42,000,000, to pay which the conqueror has levied on his enemies $56,200,000, giving a clear gain of $14,200,000, earned by the "needle gun" in a few weeks, and this independent of the territory and other property acquired.

Three Charleston, S. C., men picked up an unexploded shell and endeavored to draw the fuse so as to extract the powder. The shell exploded, killing one and wounding the others, besides breaking much glass. If such alarms continue to reach us we will be led to think the war in the South is not yet over.

A lady in Mobile one day last week gave birth to four children. The Register says this is the third time she has thus augmented the number of her household by more than one at a time—first two, then three, and now four. If she goes on at that progressive rate her husband will have no room for the cradles.

A. H. Lee, of Prairie du Rocher, Ill., who drew the Crosby Opera House, is a mild, middle-aged miller, heretofore worth about $2,000. So soon as it was found Lee was the lucky man, there were scores of Chicagoians ready to swear they had known him all his life, had been to school with him, etc. Some thought they had loaned him money years ago, &c.

The London Review's comment upon the ocean yacht race is as follows: The Yankees, who can boast that they have made the biggest national debt ever made in the same time, that they have carried on the biggest civil war, received the biggest thrashing, and crushed the biggest rebellion ever known, may now claim the glory of having had the biggest yacht race.

The human voice has but nine perfect tones, but these can be combined into 17,592,186,044,415 different sounds—a remarkable scientific fact, which probably accounts for the amount of discord there is in the world. We hope no one will go to the crazy pitch in attempting to make all the sounds, but accept the fact with as much favor as you would that twice two are four.

"Charlie, my dear," said a loving mother to a hopeful five year old, "Charlie, my dear, come here and get some candy." "I guess I wont mind it now, mother," replied Charlie, "I've got in some tobacco." Mothers, and fathers, too, look after your boys when they put on the breeches. They feel so big, you know, and want to be men.

Colonel Harry Gilmore, who made himself quite notorious as a rebel guerilla during the war, and who wrote a very egotistic and boastful book about his extraordinary exploits in Maryland and Virginia, has become a commission merchant in New Orleans. If he advertises his business as energetically as he did his own heroism, he may succeed.

A man named Joseph Haddopp was executed upon the Probst gallows, in Norristown, Montgomery county, Penna., on Wednesday last, for the murder of a man named Julius Wochelle, Nov. 25th, 1866. The convicted murderer was a native of Baden, Germany, and is about thirty-five years of age. He murdered Wochelle for money.

A singular law suit is now on trial at Albany. Two young men, each married but a few weeks, got sick of their wives, and proposed to "swop," and very singularly, the women consented. But the husband of the homeliest promised to pay thirty dollars "to boot," and as he has neglected to hand over, the suit was brought to recover the money.

A gentleman in California having made a lady a present of a pair of pistols, after several trials of skill, they concluded to go thro' the forms of a duel. They took their positions, fired at the word, and, to the terror of the lady, the gentleman fell. She threw herself frantically upon the corpse, embracing and kissing it with every emotion of endearment. Under such magical influence the gentleman revived, and rose unhurt from the ground, and—and—they are to be married. Who ever read a novel to beat this?

One Million Lives Lost.

Of the terrible famine in India it now appears that half had not been told.—The details received were bad enough, but later and more complete accounts far surpass anything previously recorded. The Friend of India, of November 29th, contains the following:

Mr. T. Ravenshaw, Commissioner of Orissa, has sent to the Bengal Government a report of the famine in that province. Never has so heart-rending a picture been drawn. An official, whose basis, if it exists, must lead him to tone down the horrible facts, estimates the loss of life from want of food and its consequences at from 500,000 to 600,000, and in some places at three fourths of the whole population. This is among the four and a half millions of Orissa alone, where the official reports show the deaths to be still going on at the rate of 150 a day. The mortality was not less severe proportionally in the adjoining district of Midnapore, with its population of more than half a million. In Ganjam, with nearly a million of people, the calamity was comparatively light, but famine, disease and debility swept away thousands. The same is true of Chota Nagpore. We have a reliable record of the deaths of paupers from famine-stricken districts in Calcutta. Add to these the mortality in the other districts of Bengal, from Saugor Island to Patna and the borders of Napaul, and we have a record of the loss of life which exceeds in horror and extent that of any of the six great droughts of India during the last century. Before the destroying angel takes its final flight the tale will have mounted up beyond a million known deaths.—This is worse than in the great famine which carried off 800,000 people from the Northwestern Doab in 1838.

We have reason to believe that the most terrible of all recorded afflictions of this kind, that of 1770, was not more ruthless in its murderous work than this which still demands its daily holocaust. For the greater part of that million of deaths has occurred, not over a wide extent of territory, nor among millions of people, but within an area not larger than that of England and Wales, and among a people who do not exceed six millions in number. No plague, no black death, no yellow fever, no great physical convulsions like the most tremendous earthquake on record, has engulphed so many victims. The last famine, of which Baird Smith was the alleviator and historian, carried off a half a million, or only one twenty-sixth of the thirteen millions affected, and the starvation price of food was never higher than 7½ seers the rupee. This, ere it closes, will have swallowed up a sixth of the people, among whom rice sometimes was not be had at all, and for many a long month not lower than 9 seers the rupee.

The Creditor's Stratagem.

Four creditors started from Boston, in the same train of cars, for the purpose of attaching the property of a certain debtor in Farmington, in the State of Maine. He owes each one separately, and each one was suspicious of the object of the other, but dared not say a word about it. So they rode, acquaintance, all talking upon everything except that they had most at heart. When they arrived at the depot at Farmington, which was three miles from where the debtor did business, they found nothing to "put 'em over the road" but a solitary cab, towards which they all rushed. Three got in and refused admittance to the fourth, and the cab started. The fourth ran after, and got up outside with the driver. He asked the driver if he wanted to sell his horse. He replied that he did not want to—that he was not worth more than fifty dollars, but he would not sell him for that. He asked him if he would not take one hundred dollars for him. "Yes," said he. The fourth man quickly paid over the money, took the reins and backed the cab up to a bank, slipped it from the harness, and tipped it up so that the door could not be opened, and then jumped upon the horse's back and rode off lickety-switch, while the insiders were looking out of the window, feeling like singed cats. He rode to a lawyer's and got a writ made and served and his debt secured, and got back to the hotel just as the "insiders" came up puffing and blowing. The cabman soon bought back his horse for fifty dollars. The "sold" men offered to pay that sum if the fortunate one, who found the property sufficient to pay his own debt, would not tell of it in Boston.

—Calvin Penlon, a colored boy, was sent to the House of Correction for robbing the till of an oyster saloon, in Altoona.

—Thursday, the 14th, is Valentine's day. A good assortment of the comic and sentimental Valentines for sale at Lewis' Book Store.

—An attempt was made to burn McAtee's flouring mill, in Lewistown, a few days ago, after a robbery was committed, but the attempt failed.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has agreed to assist in extending the Tyrone and Clearfield Railroad to Clearfield.

—A correspondent of the Ebensburg Alleghenian says that the story of the freezing to death of the Wilt family on the Alleghany mountains, was a sensation one.

—Exploded, the idea that newspapers are the objects of public charity. They are the indispensable institutions of every locality, which give it a name and a prominence.

—The boy Jones, indicted for the killing of another boy, named Stevens, in Hollidaysburg, some time last November, had his trial week before last, and was acquitted.

—The post-office will be moved in a few days to the room formerly occupied by Mrs. Welch as a school-room. It is on Hill street, nearly opposite Lewis' Book Store.

—The total amount of indebtedness of Mifflin county is $39,581 68. A close calculator would say it would take a "few" years to pay that debt. No wonder Brady is wanted.

The Cambria Freeman is the title of a Democratic paper started in Ebensburg, by R. L. Johnson and H. A. McPike. It is a "rich, rare and racy" sheet, in the beginning, and we have no doubt it will continue so.

—Mr. Daniel Kyper, living in Oneida township, was "squeezed" one day last week by one of his horses pressing against him. Although not seriously hurt, he feels the effect of the embrace inwardly.

—The Duncannon Iron Company's safe was robbed on the night of the 7th inst., of $13,000 in greenbacks and 2,500 in notes of Pennsylvania 10 per cent. coupon bonds. No clue to the robbers.

—Some scamp or scamps (having on board, no doubt, a super-cargo of fighting whiskey) came in contact with two young shade trees in front of the Catholic church one night last week, and totally destroyed them.

—The Blair county court has sent a bigamist, named Hezekiah Malone, to the Western Penitentiary for nine months. He had married two women in one month. A certain Brigham Young should have him in Utah.

—The Times says a charter has been granted for a seminary at Mt. Union. The capital stock will be from $10,000 to $20,000. The school is designed to be under the care of the Methodist Episcopal church.

—The white horse of Mr. John Westbrook had a little run all to himself on Monday morning. He wanted to get rid of a four-wheeled machine behind him, which bothered him considerably. Nobody hurt but himself.

—A division of the Sons of Temperance is to be revived in this place.—Twenty or more individuals have applied for a charter. This will make the second society of a temperance nature in this place.

—Hon. A. A. Barker attended President Johnson's state dinner on Tuesday evening last. We rather incline to the belief that our honorable member has a "sweet tooth" for goodies, even if they do come from the President.

—The vote for the editor's chair at the Alexandria Festival stood as follows: Journal 227, Monitor 194, Globe 224. We have the consolation of knowing that appreciative ladies gave us this support, which is more than the luckier ones can say.

—It will be gratifying to those who invested in the Kelly lottery in Chicago to know that the veritable Kelly has decamped from that section to parts unknown. We learn that the even number of twenty in this place will draw a "fine sight" on said Kelly. He is a ras-kel-lie sort of fellow.

—The Pittsburg Gazette says that our account of the explosion on the Broad Top Road was "rather a tough story." We learned particulars from a very reliable gentleman, and believe every word, as it has since been confirmed. "Local," you will have to learn that "truth is stranger than fiction."

—There was a masquerade party held at the Morrison House in this place, on Thursday evening last. As we weren't there, we can't say "who was who," or what was done; but the revelations of the next day gave us and the people generally sufficient light on both these subjects, which everybody has no business to know, but which somebody did know, to not a few bodies chagrin. Was anybody scared?

PINIKLE PINT, Feb. 11, 1867.

MISTER EDITURS:—I cum agen tu yu in truble. I wuz told tu cum tu town tu the Maskerade. I cum. I went tu the ball, and it wus good. I couldn't pertend tu tell you all how good it luked. Sufis it tu sa thare wus a lot uv the purtiest gurls thare, drest up in the purtiest kalikers I ever seed, and thay kame frum all the wurld. The krags uv Skotland sent its luvly lass; the dykes uv Jarminy its red cheeked musickshuns; sunny Frans its butiful flour gurl; burnin Araby its brite eyed darter; an Yanke land its swete an joyous femails; while at the same time the old lady left her nittin; the soldier femail her kamp fire; the biddy her unwasht dishes; tu mingle with wat Heaven gave, Night and Mornin, besides etsetry, etsetry. Then thare wus fellers frum every plaze in the wurld, lukin butifuly sublime, and sum frum the tother wurld with the damp grave cloths—ugh! I sa twas good, O, twas grand; farey land is no tuchen whatever, or never wus, no tuchen whatever. But alas that good fun must pay its skore! The next mornin befor breckfast, a man gave me a paper rekwestin me tu step up tu his offis. As he insisted it was important I went. Thare I found about a string ov people waitin fur thare time tu get inter the offis, and thay all luked so funy, I thot maybe the offis was dealin out distressin news, fur instans that the latest fashun frum Paris wuz, tu have no teeth or eyebrows, and that thay wur goin tu be in the fashun or dye. Mebbe thay ware watin thare fur thare time tu bev thare teeth pulled. I gest that wuz it, fur thay lookt so funny; sum wur lookin down thare noses calmly and quietly as if resigned tu thare fate; sum looked wild like, thare eyes wur sawser size, and thare hare stood on end so much that thare hats wudnt go on; sum bed thare tongues loose at both ends, and talked so fast that I thot thare teeth wud resine thare posishuns without further seremany; and meny drawd those orful sighs that tells ov a troubled hart. I asked wat was rong. Sum buddy told me the maskeraders wuz to go to jale. I begin tu feel pale myself imedyetly without further explanashin. I put mi hand tu mi heeted brow an thot. Benzy, sez I, yure sick, tu sick tu go tu jale, go home tu yure muther. No wun was watchin, and I run, run like blue litenen. I saw mi frend with the paper cumin up with another feller who didnt appere ankshus fur his cumpany. I tried tu turn, slipt, fel in mud, best sute ruined agen. Things wuz desperate, an seein a door open, I shot in; a feller within shot out the back door, mutterin sumthin about, "not at hume fur visiturs tu day." I borrowed a kloset, peeped out, saw a kuple of femail heads peepin in the back door as if tha wus lukin anxshusly fur a visitur that didnt cum. I wus saved. I set me down and wept fur joy, yes wept, and tried tu rub the mud off mi best klothes. I staid thare til nite lent me her protectin folds, an then crept out, wuz met bi a friend, who askt me if I bed herd the joak. I told him I hed bin prest with bisness all day an hed not. He told me al the maskeraders wur tuk up, but it wuz only a goak, bekase there wuz no law. I bid a hasty adoo, an struck fur mi pinnikle, thinkin that if that wuz a goak, it wuz the biggest wun ever held in this land, and the fellers who got it up, should hev mud medals, suspended round thare necks with bloo ribbin, engraved thereon the imperishable word "sold." Direct tu,

BENSY KRUZER.

The Alexandria Festival.

The festival at Alexandria on Thursday evening last was a brilliant affair. We were there to see and we must say we never enjoyed ourselves better. The supper table was well supplied with everything good, and the "extras" were numerous and drew into the Treasury numerous dimes. The "Clergyman's Chair" was not voted for, the Clergymen of the place declining to receive it in that way. The "Editor's Chair" was voted for, and the contest was made almost exclusively political upon the high pressure principle, between the Journal and Monitor—the Globe declining to enter the contest as a right or wrong party organ. The whole amount voted on the chair was about $45, one sixth of what it should have been—but sink or swim, politics must always be uppermost with politicians. The Monitor had the most money in, but a difficulty arose when its friends withdrew their last vote, 882, and the chair was then given the Journal office. We have not learned the amount taken in by the Association but we suppose the Festival paid. The votes we received were principally voted by the ladies, and they voted for us as the best looking editor, and on that question the vote for us was unanimous. Glory enough for one day.

Installation.

The following officers were installed at the last regular meeting of Standing Stone Lodge, No. 85, of the Independent Order of Good Templars of this place, on Tuesday evening last: W. C. T.—J. E. Greene; W. V. T.—Ellie C. Anderson; W. S.—M. S. Lytle; W. T.—Belle Glazier; W. C.—Dr. Brumbaugh; W. A. S.—Hattie McCoy; W. F. S.—J. F. Bathurst; W. M.—T. W. Myton; W. D. M.—Callie Speedy; W. R. H. S.—John Foreman; W. L. H. S.—Jemima Greenland; W. O. G.—John Miller.

This lodge has now been in existence over two years. There have been about two hundred persons initiated during that time.

Another Explosion.

An engine, used for shifting cars, exploded at Renovo, on the Phila. & Erie Railroad, on Monday morning last at six o'clock, in which, we learn, Mr. William Snyder, the fireman, was blown up and instantly killed. Mr. Snyder was a son of Mr. John Snyder, of this place, and was an industrious young man, of good deportment. We have not learned the full particulars of the catastrophe.

Porter Township Teachers' Association.

A number of the members of the Association assembled at the Loop School House. The meeting was called to order by the President, S. P. McDivitt. The Secretary being absent, A. H. Kauffman was on motion appointed Secretary, pro tempore. W. R. Baker conducted a drill in Written Arithmatic, in which the members present participated. The various methods of teaching the subject in our Common Schools was then discussed, by the members of the Association. A. H. Kauffman said much valuable time was frequently lost to pupils by being urged on in this study, before the reasoning faculties are sufficiently developed by nature to comprehend the subject. He regarded the use of rules an obstacle in the way of success. Mr. Baker favored the use of rules. He thought the evil resulted from the fact that rules are in general not properly explained to the pupil. D. F. Tussey said pupils could be interested in the subject at a very early age. He drilled a class, illustrating his method of teaching beginners the elementary operations of counting and addition. He thought rules might possibly be of some advantage, yet believed more thorough scholars would be made if they were dispensed with. After some further remarks by Messrs. S. P. McDivitt and R. M. McNeal, the discussion was closed. A piece of music was sung.

An exercise in English Grammar was conducted by A. H. Kauffman, and the methods of teaching it discussed by the members present. Mr. Kauffman thought the importance of Grammar, both as a practical art and means of mental discipline was not fully appreciated. He would not discard parsing but would precede it by analysis. No teacher who follows the order of the text book will succeed well with young pupils. He favored the object method of teaching definitions. These views were generally concurred in by the members present. After a piece of vocal music the Association on motion adjourned.

Evening Session.—The exercises were opened with Music. An able and highly instructive essay on Education was read by Mr. S. P. McDivitt. The subject of School Government was then discussed. A. H. Kauffman, in opening the discussion, adverted briefly to the circumstances which render school government so difficult, such as poor school houses, want of proper parental co-operation and more general interest in the cause of education. He favored mild measures and more attention to moral instruction in our schools. He could not succeed without the rod, yet could not help but regard it as a means of doubtful propriety for securing and maintaining order in the school-room. Mr. D. F. Tussey said he could not regard the rod an improper means of securing obedience when used in the proper spirit and manner. There seems to be something in human nature inclined to resist authority however mildly, justly and reasonably it may be exercised. His views were ably supported by quotations from the Proverbs of Solomon. Messrs. McNeal, Baker and McDivitt also spoke in favor of the rod, though as a last resort, after milder means had proved futile.

Mr. McNeal, chairman of the business committee, read the following report which was adopted. Place of next meeting, Valley School House, No. 1, time, Feb. 16, 1 o'clock, P. M. Afternoon session.—Geography, R. M. McNeal; Reading, W. R. Baker; Writing, S. P. McDivitt.

Evening session.—Oration, Mr. Caldwell: Essay, A. H. Kauffman; Discussion, subjects—first: "Is it necessary that the laboring class in a nation should be educated?" Second—"Are public school examinations and exhibitions advisable?"

The members then engaged in a short drill in Calisthenics. A piece of music was sung, the roll called, and sentiments given: after which the Association on motion adjourned.

Slight Fire.

The roof of Mr. Maize's house, on Railroad street, took fire on Wednesday, from sparks from a locomotive.—The flames were extinguished before the high wind, then prevailing, had set the block in flames. This is the fourth or fifth time this roof has ignited from the same cause. We are pleased to understand that the house will be torn down in the spring. We hope so, as it is not pleasant to be scared so badly, and worse, for Mr. M. to be obliged to move so often "at a moment's warning."

—One of the most important features of the Alexandria Festival, (to us, at least) was that we, the Junior, drew a ring in a very tasty cake.—Now, we haven't much faith in lotteries or chances, but somehow chance did favor us (poor cuss) in this instance. We considered ourself "sum punkins" when we were the luckiest of about fifty, and what printer wouldn't? A. H. Lee, who drew the Crosby Opera House, couldn't have felt more el-levated than did we, and we are just as happy as our Journal cotems. who got that fancy chair. Long live the lady who baked that cake! P. S.—It isn't a brass ring, either.

New Firm.

We take pleasure in announcing that our young friend Capt. Frank Watson has gone into partnership with Major Wm. F. Johnson, in the mercantile business, in this place. Their store near Jacob's Hotel, will be opened on or about the 15th of next month. Our young friends expect a good share of the public patronage, and we hope they will not be disappointed.

Temperance Lecture.

We are glad to learn that E. H. Uniac, the Champion Temperance Lecturer, that addressed the temperance meeting in this place last November, is going to visit our town and vicinity again. He lectures at Saxton, Thursday night next, (14th). He will lecture in this place about the last of this month. We shall give notice in due time. No one should fail to hear him.

—Huntingdon is the only county in the State in which four seven-column newspapers are published.

The Metropolitan Railroad.

MOUNT UNION, Feb. 1, 1867.

Editors of The Times:

I write to advise you, that the Metropolitan Railroad, destined to unite the National Capital with the interior Railways of New York and Pennsylvania, has been completed from Washington City, via Point of Rocks, to Hagerstown, Md.; and I have been detailed to assist in locating the link from Hagerstown, via the Conococheague and Aughwick Creek route, to intersect the Pennsylvania Railroad at Mt. Union. When this is completed, the distance by rail from Washington City, via Pittsburg, to Chicago, will be eighty miles less than via Baltimore City, and trade and travel from the North-West and South-West to the Capital of the Union greatly advantaged both in time and expense.

A National Railroad is wanted from Washington City to the Lake Regions. This great work will cross the Baltimore and Ohio, Cumberland Valley, Southern Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania Central, Philadelphia and Erie, and New York Railways; opening up a short route between the West Indies, the Southern Atlantic States and the North West, by which the products of these varied regions may be more rapidly and cheaply exchanged than via New York Canal and Railways; and destined to make Washington City, Georgetown and Alexandria important points of commerce.

A National Railway Convention will be held in Hagerstown, in April, 1867, to which the citizens of this section should send delegates capable of furthering the interests of your people in this National work.

JOHN H. SHERMAN,
Civil Engineer.

Important to Dead Heads.

The remarks of the Altoona Tribune on "Free Passes on Railroads" may furnish not a little consolation to deticket-ed "Dead Heads," especially when it says:

"That the free pass system will ever be entirely abolished, is doubtful; in fact, out of the question. The charge that they are corrupting to the recipients may, to a certain extent, be true; but are not favors of other kinds, extended daily, in political and business transactions, equally corrupting? How are these sources of corruption to be purified and why not include all, when an attempt at purification is made."

☞David Caldwell, of this place, has been appointed by President Johnson, Assessor of this Congressional District, vide J. Sewell Stewart, removed. Mr. Stewart can't be removed until the Republican Senate confirms the appointment of Caldwell. We don't think the Senate will ever confirm the appointment of Mr. Caldwell.

☞Col. H. H. Gregg, of this place, who has been at the head of the Telegraphing and Transportation Department for two years past, has been reappointed by Governor Geary. A good appointment.

MARRIED,

At the residence of the bride's parents, Feb 7th., by Rev. S. A Creveling, Mr. B. F. HARMONY, to FANNIE J. LEAS, all of Shirleysburg, Pa.

THE PERFECTION OF MEDICAL SCIENCE.

Dr. Leon's Electric Hair Renewer.

It is a positive cure for Baldness.
It restores Gray Hair to its original color.
It is a Tonic, not a Dye, and acts upon the secretions.
It immediately arrests falling out of the hair.
It alleviates Neuralgia and Headache.
It radically cures Dandruff and Humors.
It keeps the scalp healthy, clean and cool.
It is an elegant and exquisitely fragrant Hair Dressing
It restores, cultivates and beautifies the hair.
It makes harsh hair flexible and lustrous.

Dr. Leon's Electric Hair Renewer has enjoyed a high local reputation for many years. Its wonderful restorative and invigorating properties are well known to the Medical Faculty of Philadelphia.

Being fully satisfied of the merits of Leon's Electric Hair Renewer we have procured exclusive ownership and are determined that every household in our land shall have opportunity to reap its benefits.

DR. LEON'S INFANT REMEDY.

A most delicious and efficacious cure for the various ills to which Infants and Young Children are subject.

Invaluable for Teething Children!

It softens the gums, abates inflammation, invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and is a sure and speedy cure for Colic, Cramps and Windy Pains.

A most excellent preparation for children of a restless and fretful habit, and in all cases of Looseness, Griping, Vomiting, or other inward grief, it gives immediate ease.

Used for more than half a century in the private practice of one of the most eminent physicians of Philadelphia.

In now placing this article within the reach of all our countrymen, we would remark that we know it to be a Remedy of unrivaled excellence and that it has proved in thousands of cases, as we are resolved it shall in millions, a priceless boon.

J. W. Bradley's Celebrated Patent

Duplex Elliptic
or Double Spring,

SKIRT.

The wonderful Flexibility and great comfort and pleasure to any lady wearing the Duplex Elliptic Skirt will be experienced particularly in all crowded assemblies, opera, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, arm chairs, for promenade and house dress, as the skirt can be folded when in use to occupy a small place as easily and conveniently as a silk or muslin dress, an invaluable quality in crinoline, not found in any single spring skirt.

A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort, and great convenience of wearing the duplex elliptic steel spring skirt for a single day, will never afterwards willingly dispense with their use. For children, misses and young ladies they are superior to all others.

They will not bend or break like the single spring but will preserve their perfect and graceful shape when three or four ordinary skirts will have been thrown aside as useless. The hoops are covered with double and twisted thread, and the bottom rods are not only double springs, but twice (or double) covered; preventing them from wearing out when dragging down stoops, stairs, &c.

The Duplex Elliptic is a great favorite with all ladies and is universally recommended by the Fashion Magazines as the standard skirt of the fashionable world.

To enjoy the following inestimable advantages in crinoline, viz: superior quality, perfect manufacture, stylish shape and finish, flexibility, durability, comfort and economy, enquire for J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic, or double spring skirt, and be sure you get the genuine article.

CAUTION—To guard against imposition be particular to notice that skirts offered as "Duplex" have the red ink stamp, viz: J. W. Bradley's Duplex Elliptic Steel Springs' upon the waist band—none others are genuine. Also notice that every hoop will clinch a pin being passed through the centre, thus revealing the two (or double) springs braided together therein, which is the secret of their flexibility and strength, and a combination not to be found in any other spring.

For sale in all stores where first class skirts are sold throughout the United States and elsewhere.

Manufactured by the sole owners of the patent,
WESTS, BRADLEY & CARY,

Glorious News!

$100 ADDITIONAL BOUNTY!!

NEW BOUNTY LAW PASSED!

Attention, Discharged Soldiers!

The Act of Congress approved July 28, 1866, gives $100 additional bounty to all soldiers who enlisted for three years and were discharged by reason of expiration of service, or who were discharged for wounds received in battle and who have not received more than $100 bounty for such service. An additional bounty of $100 is also allowed to the nearest relative of soldiers who enlisted for a term of three years and who died or were killed in the service, to be paid in the following order: First, to the widow; second, to the children; third, to the father, and fourth, to the mother.

Soldiers' Widows.

By applying to W. H. Woods, of Huntingdon, Huntingdon county, Pa., you can have your pensions increased two dollars a month for each and every child you have, and when the widow has married or died, the children are entitled to the increase.

To all who have brought home the bodies of their friends who died or were killed in the service of the United States, there is a certain amount of compensation allowed you for the expenses incurred in bringing home the bodies of your friends, which you can obtain by making application to me.

Invalid Soldiers, Attention!

The act of Congress, approved June 6, 1866, gives additional pensions to the following class of persons:

Soldiers who have lost both eyes or both hands, $25 per month; who have lost both feet $20 per month; who have lost one hand or one foot, or totally disabled in the same, $15 per month.

Persons who have been deprived of their pensions in consequence of being in the civil service of the United States Government, can be restored to the pension roll by applying to me.

Fathers and mothers who were in whole or in part dependent upon their sons for support are entitled to a pension. Also brothers and sisters under sixteen years of age

All discharged soldiers who did not receive transportation to their places of enlistment when discharged, are entitled to receive it; and also all who were held as prisoners of war, and did not receive commutation of rations when released or discharged, are entitled to it.

Officers who were in the service on the 3d of March, 1865, and were discharged after the 9th of April, 1865, by applying to me can receive three months extra pay.

Soldiers of 1812!

All soldiers, or soldiers' widows, of the war of 1812, who have served two months, or been wounded or disabled in such service, if in necessitous circumstances, are entitled to an annuity of $16.

Local Bounty.

All veteran soldiers who gave their credit to districts in the State of Pennsylvania, and who received no local bounty, are entitled to receive three hundred dollars.

All persons having any of the above mentioned claims, or any other kind of claim against the United States or State Governments, will please address me, giving full particulars, enclosing a stamp for return postage, and they will receive a prompt reply.

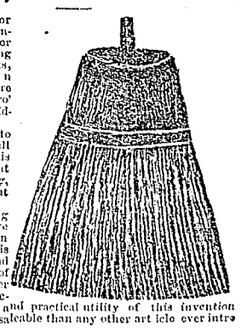
BROUGHER'S PATENT EXCELSIOR

BROOM HEAD OR WRAPPER,

PATENTED DECEMBER 25, 1866.

Everybody his own Broom Maker.



This head or Wrapper is constructed of Tin or Zinc, with sliding hand nut bolts, in connection with the centre bolt passing thro' the handle, holding it secure.

The article to which we call your attention is very simple, light and strong, weighing but Seven Ounces.

The farming community have long needed an article of this character; and the high price of Brooms, together with the simplicity, durability, and practical utility of this invention makes it more saleable than any other art ticle ever introduced.

☞ We offer borough, township, and family rights for sale on reasonable terms, in the county of Huntingdon.

For further particulars, call and see the subscribers, or address THOS. G. STRICKLER & SON,

SPECIAL NOTICE.

TO THE LADIES.—Do you really intend to cease wearing the beautiful styles now so prevalent, or dress less elegantly, because the rebel Jeff. Davis, was captured in Fashionable Female attire? One moment's calm reflection will surely serve to change your rash resolve. The angels had too much good sense to lay aside their pure chaste robes of white, because they had for a time served to hide the deformities of that Prince of Rebels, the Devil. Can you err in following the example of Angels? Then having made up your minds that you will continue to dress tastefully regardless of rebel acts, do not forget to call at the store of the subscribers, who will be happy at all times to furnish you with such articles of dress as you may desire. Urge your fathers, husbands, brothers, neighbors and children to visit the same store. They can here be suited in good articles of Boots, Shoes, Clothing Material, Hats, Caps, Queensware and a general assortment of Groceries, on as reasonable terms as at any House in town. Store on Southeast corner of the Diamond, Huntingdon, Pa.

Temperance Topics.

The Decoy which Makes Young Men Drunkards.

Go with us to the public houses, where a number of young men are assembled. All in life and gaity. A few among them may be young and timid. They approach the counter, and wine, and rum, and brandy, are called for. One or two may stand back, and say, no, gentlemen, we do not drink; please excuse us. Immediately the rest turn and begin to taunt their friends who refuse to drink, saying they are afraid of getting "tight," of the "old man," and some whispor audibly, "Well, they are mean fellows; they are afraid they will have to spend a cent!" Here you see two very sensitive nerves are touched—Courage and Cleverness. Their bosoms swell with pride; rather than bear these flings of their companions, they step up to the counter and join in the revelry. The ice is now broken, the first great act of the drama performed.—Others follow in natural order, until the individual who refused to drink at first, reels along the public streets without shame.

Such is the manner in which thousands of our promising young men are led away by a false ambition; and thousands more will follow in their path unless they learn the meaning of courage.

We have in our mind a number of noble-hearted, good-meaning men, who do not possess strength enough to face opposition. Rather than be called mean they will follow up these habits of drinking until their appetites become uncontrollable.

We advise you, young men, when you are in company, and solicited to drink intoxicating liquors, to say frankly and decidedly that you do not indulge in such things, and you command their respect, and they will be forced to admit that your courage is sufficient to bear all their taunts and not yield the right. Those who stem the tide always meet opposition; but never despair—press onward. Our only hope of rescuing the race from this brutal, slavish passion rests with the young. Will you, young friend, have courage, true, high and God like courage, to face this growing evil and banish it from our land.

A Menagerie of Drunkards.

The most foolish predicament a man can get into is to get drunk. In drunkenness every man shows his strongest and most ardent passion. There are six kinds of drunkards, and if you will go into a city drinking place, where there are a dozen men under the influence of liquor, you will be sure to find these six different animals.

The first is ape-drunk. He leaps, and sings, and yells, and dances, making all sorts of grimaces, and cutting up all sorts of "monkey shines" to excite the laughter of his fellows! O, terribly silly is the drunkard clown.

The second is tiger-drunk. He breaks the bottles, breaks the chairs, breaks the heads of fellow carousers, and is full of blood and thunder. His eyes are fired with vengeance, and his soul raves with murderous frenzy. Of this sort are those who abuse their families.

The third is hog drunk. He rolls in the dirt on the floor, slobbers and grunts, and going into the street makes his bed in the first ditch or filthy corner he may happen to fall into. He is heavy, lumpish, and sleepy, and cries in a grunting way for a little more to drink.

The fourth is puppy-drunk. He will weep for kindness, and whine his love and hug you in his arms, and kiss you with his slobbery lips, and proclaim how much he loves you. You are the best man he ever saw, and will lay down his money or life for you.

The fifth is owl-drunk. He is the wise man in his own conceit. No man must differ with him, for his word is law. He is true in politics, and all matters must be taken as authority. His arm is the strongest, his voice the sweetest, his horse the fleetest, his turnips the largest, his town the finest of all in the room or land.

The sixth and last animal of our menagerie is the fox-drunk man. He is crafty, ready to trade horses and cheat if he can. Keen to strike a bargain, leering around with low cunning, peeping through cracks, listening, under the eaves, watching for some suspicious thing, sly as a fox, sneaking as a wolf, he is the meanest drunkard of them all.

Drunken Children.

The reprehensible practice of supplying children with intoxicating drinks for their own consumption is still carried on by many publicans and beersellers all over the country, and we are glad to notice that in the metropolis an effort is about to be made to enforce a clause in the police act against supplying with drink children under sixteen years of age for their own consumption. A correspondent of the Star says the extent to which beer shops, public houses, and gin palaces are frequented by mere children for the purpose of drinking is simply frightful. On Monday morning the magistrates of Liverpool had before them twenty boys and girls under the age of seventeen, "all of whom had been found beastly drunk in the public streets on Sunday, and incapable of taking care of themselves." On a given Sunday the publicans of Manchester had the pleasure of seeing 22,000 children enter their premises. A clergyman entered a room in a Manchester beer shop at about one o'clock in the morning, and found it full of boys and girls drinking. In Derby more children have been found drunk in the tap room of a low house. In Salisbury a gentleman saw a crowd of young people, some of them Sunday School scholars, imbibing beer in the back premises of a beer shop on Sunday morning during church hours.—So great is the evil of juvenile drinking in Middlesborough that the chief constable has thought it his duty to issue a police notice in reference to it. Near Portsmouth is a sort of public house fair, and from it young people have been seen rolling home drunk at seven o'clock in the morning, they having been drinking and dancing all night. In Scotland, also, this sad evil prevails.—Liverpool Times.

PROF. J. H. M'ENTYRE'S GREAT REMEDY,

THE

INDIAN COMPOUND

Internal and External Medicine,

WILL CURE:

☞ Diarrhœa, Bloody Flux in one day,
☞ Headache and Earache in three minutes.
☞ Toothache in one minute.
☞ Neuralgia in five minutes,
☞ Sprains in twenty minutes,
☞ Sore Throat in ten minutes,
☞ Cholic and Cramp in five minutes,
☞ Rheumatism in one day,
☞ Pain in the Back or Side in ten minutes,
☞ Bad Coughs or Colds in one day,
☞ Fever and Ague in one day.
☞ Cures Deafness, Asthma, Piles,
☞ Bronchitis Affections, Dyspepsia,
☞ Inflammation of the Kidneys, Erysipelas,
☞ Liver Complaint and Palpitation of the Heart.

Keep it in your Families—Sickness comes when least expected.

I propose to check, and effectually dissipate more ache and pain, and to accomplish more perfect equilibrium of all the circulating fluids in the human system, than can be effected by any other, or all other methods of medical aid in the same space of time.

THIS POPULAR REMEDY is fast coming into use, for the fact that I cure, free of charge, all those complaints whenever there is an opportunity to do so. As soon as it is applied it almost miraculously kills the pain. I do not ask you to buy before you are certain of its efficacy. If you have an ache or pain, it is warranted to do all it purports on the label.

I do not propose to cure every disease—only a class named by my directions. My liniment operates on chemical and electric principles, and is, therefore applicable, to the cure or natural restorative of all organic derangement arising from an improper circulation of the nerve vital fluids.

Prof. J. H. McEntyre's INDIAN COMPOUND acts directly on the absorbents, reducing glandular and other swellings in incredible short time, without any possible danger from its use under any possible circumstances.

This is an internal and external medicine—composed of roots, herbs and barks, such as our forefathers used.—There is a bountiful supply on earth to cure all complaints if we only know what they were.

This has been a great study with the Medical Faculty for many years, to find out the kinds best adapted to the above complaints—how to put them together, and what proportions to use. J. H. McENTYRE,
Proprietor, Reading, Pa.
